Doxology and Theology: How the Gospel Forms the Worship Leader. Theology is considered the business of pastors and professors, while worship is the business of musicians and rock stars. But a new wave of young worship leaders is hungry for something different, the desire to think not just pragmatically (sound, charts, guitars) but theologic.

Doxology and Theology: How the Gospel Forms the Worship ...

He states, "Theology shapes doxology" and explains—with the unique ability of a song-writer—that our doxology (praise in response to truth) is an impossibility without theology. Without the knowledge of the One we worship given to us in Scripture, our most zealous attempts at worship would be aimless at best.

Doxology & Theology. Theology is meant to produce worship. Doxology without theology leads to sensationalism. With the humanistic, neo-orthodox, and liberal renaissance in view, evangelicals realize that we cannot serve as the foundational litmus test of truth, but that truth exists perfectly in the character of God,...

Doxology & Theology | The Exchange | A Blog by Ed Stetzer

Doxology is the proclamation of exhortation of praise to God, and theology is the science of God. As worshippers we need to worship with our head and with our hearts. In other words theology runs its full course when doxology is its end. Worshipping God with our minds matters.
