Error Analysis And Contrastive Linguistics

Second language acquisition. Contrastive analysis was used extensively in the field of second language acquisition (SLA) in the 1960s and early 1970s, as a method of explaining why some features of a target language were more difficult to acquire than others. According to the behaviourist theories prevailing at the time, language learning was a question of habit formation, and this could be ...

Contrastive rhetoric is the study of how a person's first language and his or her culture influence writing in a second language or how a common language is used among different cultures. The term was first coined by the American applied linguist Robert Kaplan in 1966 to denote eclecticism and subsequent growth of collective knowledge in certain languages.

The Bilingual Aphasia Test (BAT) was designed to assess each of the languages of a bilingual or multilingual individual with aphasia in an equivalent way. The various versions of the BAT are thus not mere translations of each other, but culturally and linguistically equivalent tests. The criteria of cross-language equivalence vary with each task.

In this paper, we address the problem of generating person images conditioned on both pose and appearance information. Specifically, given an image x_a of a person and a target pose $P(x_b)$, extracted from a different image x_b , we synthesize a new image of that person in pose $P(x_b)$, while preserving the visual details in x_a .
