Crochet (English: / k r ʊ ˈ ʃ eɪ /; French:) is a process of creating fabric by interlocking loops of yarn, thread, or strands of other materials using a crochet hook. The name is derived from the French term crochet, meaning 'small hook'. These are made of materials such as metal, wood, or plastic and are manufactured commercially and produced in artisan workshops.

If you follow me on Facebook or Instagram (@littlemonkeys crochet), you know that we've recently added a very unlikely member to our family. And when I say "unlikely", I mean that never in my life did I ever think I would own a cat. My older sister was allergic to them, so I never had one growing up; and, I have always been a big dog person.

Some children depend on pacifiers, some live for stuffed animals, some can't go without their blankies. All four of my children have an obsessive connection with their blankies. We can't get out of the house without them. Somehow, my three-year-old son has claimed a full-size couch afghan as his 'blankie' and it travels everywhere with us.
