Nazi human experimentation was a series of medical experiments on large numbers of prisoners, including children, by Nazi Germany in its concentration camps in the early to mid 1940s, during World War II and the Holocaust. Chief target populations included Romani, Sinti, ethnic Poles, Soviet POWs, disabled Germans, and Jews from across Europe.. Nazi physicians and their assistants forced ...

The story of 18th-century French glutton Tarrare is so insane and horrific that it really does sound like bullshit. Then again, it's as well-documented as anything that happened at the time (he was examined by multiple medical experts who recorded their findings), and let's be honest, lots of the history we're living right now will also sound like bullshit in the future.

Premature burial, also known as live burial, burial alive, or vivisepture, means to be buried while still alive.. Animals or humans may be buried alive accidentally on the mistaken assumption that they are dead, or intentionally as a form of torture, murder, or execution. It may also occur with consent of the victim as a part of a stunt, with the intention to escape.

This is the story of how a botched liposuction destroyed me physically, cosmetically and emotionally. It outlines what went wrong during the procedure, the attempt by the operating doctors to cover their mistakes, as well as my battle to get decent care and honest opinions among a medical community that often cares more about protecting colleagues than helping patients.

There are some pictures that really horrify me about the world we are living in. How about these? By seeing the bodies of those ill-fated citizens of Pompeii who didn't even get time to move and were buried under the ashes of the volcanic eruption from Vesuvius volcano. After the incident took place during August of 79 AD, the bodies were perfectly preserved under the ashes to tell us the stories.
