Wow! And here I am feeling sorry for myself, but you have to deal with the loss if someone your mom cares about, yet he abused her, and then the pain and animosity that you feel because he did, in every sense of the word molest you, and now deal with the "afterbirth" if you will, of his dying, without any kind of closure!

The suction bowls are awesome and will help keep them from tossing the whole bowl on to the floor. The trick is to only give them a little food in the bowl at a time. At this point you are still feeding them most of the meal. If they are doing well scooping up food and at least getting some of it into their mouth, put more and more food into the bowl for them to feed themselves.

I noticed yesterday that my black lab would cry/ whine when she gets up after laying down for a long period of time. When she gets up she kind of limps and looks stiff when walking, after walking around for a little bit she walks somewhat normal and jumps around like nothing is wrong with her. I have squeezed her legs all over and she doesn't whine or anything.
